Dear Kid's Party Experts,

We recently experienced a real need for a Santa to pose for Santa portraits at our studio. Thankfully, we ran across the name of your company, and were able to book James to help us out. Before he even arrived, we felt confident that we had made a wise choice. Not only were we blessed to speak to his delightful wife upon calling to request more information, but we also felt we were not being charged an arm and a leg for his service.

After having met James, we knew instantly we would have a blast with him! He conformed to our hectic schedule of photo sessions and was more than flexible with our requests. He arrived in full costume and character and got right to business. It is our understanding that photo sessions are an unusual request from clients, but before we knew it, he was down on one knee with each child, winning their little hearts one by one. We owe a collection of beautifully crafted Santa portraits to his creativity and patience, and couldn't be more grateful for the wonderful service of a skillful Santa.

When all was said and done, we were more than satisfied with the quality of James' work. We gladly recommend his service to anyone seeking characters for the occasion at hand. Thanks again for lightening our load and blessing our work!

Warmly,
The Staff at Sunset Photography, Inc.
